Pop Anson, Once Premier Baseball Player, Is Dead

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, April 15.—Adrian C. Anson, old-time baseball player, known to millions of fans as "Pop" Anson, died yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Anson was stricken while out walking last Sunday and was rushed to a hospital, where he was operated on for glandular trouble. For a day or two his condition was critical, but then he rallied and it was believed that he was out of danger. Yesterday, however, he suffered a relapse.

Mr. Anson was more than seventy years old, but despite his age was active in outdoor life up to a few days before his death, only recently becoming manager of a new golf club. While much of his life was spent on the baseball diamond, his first games being played when he was still in his teens, in recent years he had become a great devotee of golf. He seldom missed a day at golf during the summer months, being known to the public links golfers who knew him simply as "Old Man Anson" without realizing that he was one of the first baseball players in the professional game and that he was an international character.

A beautifully built man in his palmy days as an athlete, Mr. Anson had become exceptionally heavy in his old age and was easily recognizable far across the links because of his bulk.

DEATH OF MRS. COBURN'S FATHER.

Mrs. S. G. Coburn returned last night from DeLand, where she was called about two weeks ago by the illness of her father, Mr. F. W. Rehbehn. Her friends will regret to know that Mr. Rehbehn's illness resulted in his death last Wednesday, the funeral taking place the afternoon of the next day. Mrs. Coburn's friends will sympathize with her in her bereavement.

Boy Scouts Meet and Add Numbers to Both Troops

The local troops of the Boy Scouts of America held their meeting in the Putnam High School auditorium last night during the hour preceding Biddy Shearouse's band organization meeting. George Everson delivered an intensely interesting address that held the boys spellbound, upon the American flag and his experiences in France. Many applications were received for membership in the Boy Scouts. These will be acted upon by the scout commission and committee immediately.

As soon as troops No. 1 and No. 2 are completed there will be no further effort made to secure membership. Both troops No. 1 and No. 2 are each organizing a baseball team within their own troop. Troop No. 1 is composed of the smaller boys under Scout Master Savell, and troop No. 2 is composed of larger boys.

The next scout meeting will be held at Devil's Elbow on the banks of the St. Johns river next Friday night, at which time new candidates will be received into the scout organization in due and regular form. The scouts will meet in front of the Southern Utilities office and leave promptly at 5:30 o'clock for the camp fire and meeting site, where an interesting program will precede the taking in of the new scouts. The ceremony of taking in the new scouts will be impressive and will be conducted in accordance with the scout rules. The night fire and torches among the moss-laden trees upon the banks of the St. Johns river will lend its enchantments.

The Boy Scouts are planning a comprehensive and aggressive scout organization for Palatka, and expect to be in a position to take active part in civic affairs when called upon.

Easter Sunday or Sunday commemorating the resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Confession, 6:45 a. m.; Communion 7:30 a. m.; High Mass 9:30 a. m.; Benediction of Blessed Sacrament after Mass.

Easter or East star which signifies passing over has the following historical origin. Under Pharaoh, king of Egypt, the Israelites in that country groaned under intolerable bondage. God, however, had mercy on them and at last the hour of their deliverance came. By His command the first born of all the Egyptians was killed by an angel. The Israelites had been ordered by God to be ready for emigration, but they should first kill a lamb—at it in their houses in common and sprinkle the door posts with its blood. The angel of death passed the doors sprinkled with blood and did no harm; whilst he slew all the children of the Egyptians. In grateful remembrance of this passing over their doors the Israelites observed the festival of Easter. The Pasch or Passover. This was but a type or figure of Jesus Christ—the true Paschal Lamb slain from the foundation of the world—the saving victim opening wide the gates of heaven to men below.

After the crucifixion and death of Jesus the apostles introduced the same festival into the church in grateful remembrance of the day which Jesus—the True Easter Lamb—the Lamb of God—took away our sins by

His blood—freed us from the bondage of eternal death and the freedom of the life to come. It was thus Easter which continues to be held by the church as a time of joy and triumph—of the foundation of our faith. It is not risen, there is vain and your faith is vain: 15:14.
